

Disclaimer

Access to the BIOKON international website and usage thereof shall be conditional in compliance with the terms stated below.

1. Content of the online pages

BIOKON international takes all reasonable efforts to ensure that the BIOKON international website functions properly and that the information published is accurate, up-to-date and complete, however, it cannot guarantee this. As far as legally permitted, BIOKON international shall provide no guarantees and accepts no liability in connection with the use of the website BIOKON international.

BIOKON international accepts no liability for errors, omissions, mistakes or deficiencies of any kind within the website.

Liability claims against BIOKON international, which relate to material or abstract damages resulting from the use or non-use of the information provided or from the use of erroneous or incomplete information, from the misuse of the online connection or from technical faults of any kind are strictly excluded, provided that no demonstrable criminal intent or gross negligence can be ascribed to BIOKON international.

BIOKON international is also not liable for any damage or corruption caused by viruses on computers or other terminal equipment in connection with visiting, using or downloading data of any kind from the BIOKON international website. The users are personally responsible for protecting their equipment properly from viruses and other risks in the Internet.

BIOKON international reserves the express right, without special announcement, to change, supplement or delete parts of the site or the entire service or to discontinue publication temporarily or permanently.

2. Copyright

The contents of the BIOKON international website is protected in their entirety by copyright.

Downloading, printing or saving data from BIOKON international (or parts thereof) is permitted, providing reference is made to the source. All rights to downloaded, printed or stored data from the BIOKON international website remain the property of BIOKON international. The commercial use of the websites or elements thereof is not permitted.

All trademarks and logos appearing anywhere on the website and which are protected, where applicable by third parties, are subject to the provisions of copyright in question and the ownership right on the part of the registered copyright holder. The fact that a trademark is merely mentioned does not mean third parties do not hold any copyrights.

The copyrights to the linked websites are not infringed by following a link on the BIOKON international pages.

3. References and links

BIOKON international accepts no liability and is not responsible for the availability or content of external websites that are accessed via links. BIOKON international does not exercise any influence over the current and future design, content or copyright of the linked pages. The provider of the linked site is solely liable for illegal, erroneous or incomplete contents and particularly for damages that result from the use or non-use of such information. Following a link is at the user's own risk.

4. Data protection

It is possible to input personal or commercial data (e-mail addresses, names, addresses etc.). Disclosure of this data on the part of the user is on an expressly voluntary basis.

Data and information entered by users will be treated confidentially by BIOKON international and not forwarded to third parties. The registered users thereby declare that they agree to receive information from BIOKON international according to their stated profile. Processing personal data will always comply with the applicable data protection laws.

Every time a visit is made to the BIOKON international website, anonymous data about the users is stored. This includes, for example, the users' computer IP address and browser information. However, users cannot be identified personally on the basis of this information. The sole purpose of such information is to make the BIOKON international website as user-friendly as possible.

When visiting the BIOKON international website, information is also stored on the users' computers. This information is in the form of a "cookie" and helps the BIOKON international website to adapt to the individual requirements of the users. Should users wish to prevent this, the browser can be set to refuse to accept cookies or issue a warning.

5. Legal effect of this exclusion of liability

Should parts or individual formulations in this text no longer be, or not be entirely, compliant with current statutory provisions, the remainder of the document retains its validity.

BIOKON international reserves the express right to amend the provisions herein at any time.

The version published on the internet is the valid version. The users of BIOKON international are responsible for informing themselves at regular intervals about amendments that have been made in the interim.

6. Applicable law and venue of jurisdiction

For all disputes ensuing as a result of the use of the BIOKON international website, German law shall apply exclusively. The place of jurisdiction is Berlin, Germany.
